The Salvation Army Day. The Salvation Army was given a day at the great Southern Methodist camp

eeting in St. Louis. meeting in St. Louis.

The old-time Methodist shout was to be beard at all the services. The ring of halle-lujahs and exclamations of "Glory," mingled with coronets, guitars, banjos, tamborines, concertinas and drums, filled the woodland with a solemnity and merriment never to be forgotten by the thousands who either looked on from mere curiosity or entered into the spirit of the occasion. The music was on the Salvation style, but was exceptionally good Many soles were sung, such as

I'm living in Canann now.

The great shout of the morning was by an old colored woman, who became so happy that she took the meeting into her own hands and marched up and down the aistes, crying in a loud voice; "Yes, I love everybody—I love yees, even if ye is white." She carried out the spirit of her declaration by grasping many of the devout and giving them a sound hugging. Ensign, McAbee said in the opening services that there were Methodists. Presbyterians, Baptists and Episcopalians present, and she thanked God that even the Episcopalians were getting as noisy as the pallans present, and she thanked God that even the Episcopalians were getting as noisy as the Salvationists. A great hallelujah, set to the noise of the bass drums, went up that filled the tent. There were many professions and con-versions. It was a gala day. The marked growing popularity of the Salvation Army among the church people was manifest by the splendid reception given the army soldiers on the camp assumds.

Says a Washington special: Thos. H. Benton's spring is in danger. Fifty cars ago "Old Bullion" found that the water of a spring in Columbia Heights, 2 miles to the northward of the capitol, was most pleasing to the kidneys. He got a bill through congress to have a pipe laid from the spring to the west front of the capitol. A drinking fountain was stablished just at the door of the capitol, and there Senator Benton stopped every morning to drink slowly and deeply. It was while tak-ing one of his regular drinks at this fountain that the Missourian delivered his scathing commentary on the newspaper correspondents. He was in the act of raising the cup to his lips when the correspondent who had written with when the correspondent who had written with considerable freedom of something Mr. Benton

DEPUTY SHERIFF WILSON CONFESSES. DENVER, Col., Aug. 8.—If report be rue, Joe R. Wilson, the deputy sheriff of El Paso county, who was captured in Missouri, has made a full confession, implicating a number of other men whom he claims assisted him in the outrage committed at Colorado Springs several weeks ago. He is now here in the county jail. His confession was made on the train en route to this city.

When he was finally told that he was not going to be killed he was so re lieved that he shook hands with his persecutors and thanked them over and over for sparing his life.

The disclosures of Wilson have created a great sensation here.

TRAIN ROBBERS AGAIN. An Attempt to Repeat Last Fall's Job at Kessler, Ind.—The Engineer Had IIIs Wits Along, and When He Saw a Pile of Obstructions Ahead, Pulled the Throt-tie Wide Open and Passed Safely Through Them. CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 8 .- Lake Shore express train No. 12 arriving from the west, pulled into the Union station this morning after having had a most thrilling experience on the plains of Indi-

An attempt was made early this morning to hold up the train at Kesser, Ind., upon the identical spot that the train was held up last fall. The train was just approaching split switch at Kessler when engineer noticed that switch was turned so as to run the train on the siding. A big obstruction of ties and lumber was piled up on the siding a few rods ahead of his engine. The obstruction did not appear to be impassable, and the engineer put on all the steam and dashed through the pile, passing safely on to the main track through the split switch at a high rate of speed. As the train passed the obstruction the engineer noticed a group of masked men, and as the enrine cleared the track of all obstructions the would-be highwaymen fired several shots at the train, none of which, however, took effect. The United States express car was attached to the train and is said to have had on board $20,000 in gold. It is thought this was known to the desperadoes who attempted to hold up the train. Their disappointment in carrying out their plans of stopping the train with the obstruction upon the tracks was evinced in their firing of shots when they saw their plans had been frustrated by the boldness of the engineer in dashing through the heap of ties upon the track. Had the train been stopped it is not supposed that the robbers would have been succesful, as the crew were heavily armed, and the express cars are guarded by armed men; but the train was kept in motion, regained the main track and
